 ramen  miso  savory  rice noodle  pork chashu

The miso ramen here is very good! I am originally from Japan and have been dying to eat good and authentic ramen! The broth is very flavorful and the noodles are cooked to perfection. Reminds me of home!

chasu bowl

The pork chashu bowl was good size (the mini was perfect for what I wanted), but the meat had a lot of undesirable char on it for me. In Reno, it was one of the better Japanese meals I have had. The meat was quite juicy though. The seaweed toppic was also quite salty and went ...

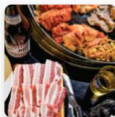

green tea

The green tea was quite refreshing, but it wasn't spectacular or anything. The best way to describe it was that it was generic green tea, the stuff that you buy from a local asian supermarket. A minor redeeming quality was that it was cheap, at least I didn't pay too much ...

west coast best coast for kbbq

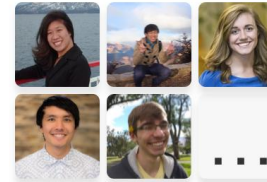

I go absolutely crazy for korean bbq. Good korean bbq to bad korean bbq, I'll eat all of it until I want to throw up. I recently traveled through the west coast and thought it would be a good idea to share some of my favorite korean bbq places from Arizona, Nevada, California, Washington ...

my favorite boba

I am super picky when it comes to boba. Most of the milk tea places I will go to serve terrible, terrible, boba and often times I will simply leave with just milk tea. These are my favorite places that cook boba correctly and consistently.

This miso ramen is out-of-this-world spectacular! I had the spicy level 0 option as my spice tolerance is pretty abysmal, but the flavor was great. I was really excited that the dish came with some pieces of seaweed, most places would charge extra for that! The portion was great and I could definitely eat gallons of this stuff!

I'm definitely going to have to try this dish out the next time I'm here! I always get the tonkatsu ramen and I've been pretty scared of changing what works. Your reviews haven't steered me wrong before! What kind of toppings do you usually get when you order the miso ramen? I noticed you got a lot of green onions and I definitely have quite the aversion to green onions.

I love the miso ramen here and I despise green onions! It definitely does not ruin the dish to get them without it and the staff is incredibly friendly. Don't worry about ordering the dish without green onions. Hope you enjoy it! If you have a spice tolerance definitely try getting it a bit spicy! It's quite delicious!
